

1. anomaly something that is different from what is normal or expected

2. brief short in time, duration, or length

3. conclude to give an opinion based on observation or evidence

4. confer to discuss something with others to make a decision

5. consolidate to bring together separate parts into a single, unified whole

6. discrete separate and different from each other

7. discriminate to treat a person or group differently based on their race, religion, etc.; to differentiate

8. disseminate to spread or give out something, especially news, information, ideas, etc., to a lot of people

9. domain an area of activity, knowledge, or interest

10. excerpt a short part taken from a book, movie, speech, etc.

11. indiscriminate done randomly without thinking; unplanned

12. infer

to form an opinion or guess that something is true because of the information you have

13. orient

to direct or position towards a particular point

14. passive

accepting or allowing what happens without active response or resistance

15. phase

a period or stage in a process of change or development

16. practical

related to real situations and events rather than ideas, and can be used in real situations

17. pragmatic

dealing with things in a way that is based on practical rather than theoretical considerations

18. predict

to say that something will happen in the future

19. predominant

more noticeable or important, or larger in number, than others

20. prohibit to not allow; to stop something from being done

21. protocol

a system of rules that explain the correct conduct and procedures to be followed in formal situations

22. pursue

to follow or chase something with the aim of catching or achieving it

23. ratio

a relationship between two amounts, showing the number of times one value contains or is contained within the other

The ratio of chocolate bars to boys is 3:2.

24. sector

a part of an area of activity, especially of business, industry, or trade

25. statistics

a collection of numerical data related to the process of planning to achieve a goal to tell the main points of something in a short and clear form

(v) to ask people their opinions regarding a topic; (n) a scientific study a general direction in which something is developing or changing to use something in an effective way

Group 22 TOEFL

Study online at https://quizlet.com/_dh0q8s
