

1. adaptation a change or adjustment to fit new conditions or needs

2. capacity the maximum amount that something can hold or contain

3. cease to stop happening or continuing

4. commence to begin or start something

5. concurrent happening or existing at the same time

6. controversy a disagreement or argument about an important issue

7. decline to gradually become less, worse, or lower

8. diminish to become smaller, weaker, or less important

9. discrepancy a difference between two things that should be the same

10. diverse consisting of many different kinds or types

11. elaborate containing many details or complicated parts

12. enhance

to improve or make something better

13. ensure

to make certain that something will happen or be done

14. equivalent

having the same value, importance, or effect as something else

15. fluctuate

to change often or irregularly, especially in amount or level

16. fundamental relating to the basic or most important part of something

IMPORTANT

17. incentive

something that encourages or motivates a person to do something

18. inevitably certain to happen and impossible to avoid

19. inherent existing as a natural part of something or someone

20. innovation

a new idea, method, or invention that brings improvements

21. integrate to combine two or more things so that they work together effectively

22. obtain

to get or gain something, often through effort or a process

23. perspective

a particular way of thinking about or understanding something

24. prevalent

commonly occurring or widely accepted in a particular place or at a particular time

25. priority

something that is considered more important than other things and should be dealt with first

26. resolve to find a solution to a problem or disagreement

27. subsequent coming or happening after something else in time or order

28. sustain

to keep something going or maintain it at the same level

29. transition

a change from one state, condition, or situation to another

30. undermine to weaken or damage something, often gradually or indirectly

